

English Reading Skills Progression

Nursery readers	Reception readers
 I have my favourite stories, rhymes, songs, poems or jingles 	I can continue a rhyming string.
 I can repeat words or phrases from familiar stories 	I can hear and say the initial sound in words.
• I can fill the missing words or phrase in a known rhyme, story or game	• I can segment the sounds in simple words and blend them together and knows
I enjoy rhyming and rhythmic activities	which letters represent some of them.
 I show awareness of rhyme and alliteration 	• I can link sounds to letters, naming and sounding the letters of the alphabet.
• I listen to and join in with stories and poems, one-to-one and also in small	I have begun to read words and simple sentences.
groups	• I can use vocabulary and forms of speech that are increasingly influenced by
• I am beginning to be aware of the way stories are structured and suggests how	their experiences of books.
the story might end.	I enjoy an increasing range of books.
	I know that information can be retrieved from books and computers.

Year 1 readers	Year 2 readers
• I can blend sounds in unfamiliar words using the letters that represent sounds	I can read accurately most words of two or more syllables that I have been taught.	I can read most words containing common suffixes
• I can respond speedily, giving the correct sound to can letters or groups of	I can read most common exception words letters for all of the 40+ sounds.	I can read words accurately and fluently without overt sounding and blending,
I can read common exception words, noting unusual correspondences between	e.g. at over 90 words per minute, in age-appropriate texts
spelling and sound and where these occur in words.	I can sound out most unfamiliar words accurately, without undue hesitation
I can read words containing taught GPCs.	I can check a familiar text, which I can read accurately and fluently, makes
 I can read words containing -s, -es, -ing, -ed and -est endings. 	sense to me
I can read words with contractions (for example, I'm, I'll, we'll).	I can answer questions and make some inferences on the basis of what is being
I can read texts that are consistent with my developing phonic knowledge	said and done in a familiar text accurately that do not require me to use other strategies to work out words.	I can make inferences on the basis of what is said and done in a text I can read
I can re-read texts to build up fluency and confidence in word reading.	• I can predict what might happen on the basis of what has been read so far in a
• I can continue to demonstrate a pleasure in reading and a motivation to read.	text I can read
I can link what I have read or hear read to my own experiences.
• I can listen and discuss a wide range of fiction, non-fiction and poetry at a level	Greater depth readers beyond that at which I can read independently.	I can make inferences on the basis of what is said and done in a text I can read
I can retell familiar stories in increasing detail.	independently
I can recite simple poems by heart	 I can predict what might happen on the basis of what has been read so far in a text I can read independently

• I can make links between the text they are reading and other texts I have read (in texts that I can read independently)

Year 3 readers	Year 4 readers
 I can use my knowledge of prefixes and suffixes to tell you the meaning of new words. I can read words that I have never seen before using my sounds and spelling rules. I can discuss how different stories are structured. I can read a range of different types of stories and non-fiction texts. I can use a dictionary to check the meaning of new words. I can tell you about lots of different stories I have read. I can retell you a story that I have read before out loud. I can tell you about the theme of some books. I can grepare a poem to read out aloud and also to perform I can identify different forms of poetry. I can prepare a play script to read out aloud and also to perform. I can check that what I am reading makes sense to me and explain what I am reading. I can infer information about the feelings, thoughts and motives of characters from what I am reading. I can predict what might happen from details stated and implied. I can summarise the main ideas in a text of more than one paragraph. I can identify words and phrases that interest, inspire and intrigue me, explaining why. I can identify words and phrases that interest, inspire and intrigue me, explaining why. I can explain how the same word can have different meanings in different contexts. 	 I can explain the meaning of new words using my knowledge of root words, prefixes and suffixes. I can use my sounds and knowledge of spelling rules read words that I have never seen before. I can discuss how different stories are structured. I can read a wide range of different types of fiction and non-fiction texts which are appropriate for my age. I can independently use a dictionary to check the meaning of new words I come across in my reading. I can retell a story that I have read before out loud in the correct order. I can prepare a play script to read out aloud and also to perform. I can consistently ask questions to help me understand a text. I can always check that what I am reading makes sense to me and explain what I am reading and share this in a group. I can consistently and confidently summarise the main ideas in a text of more than one paragraph. I can consistently and confidently summarise the main ideas in a text of more than one paragraph. I can retrieve and record information from non-fiction.

English Reading Skills Progression

Year 5 readers	Year 6 readers
• I can understand the meaning of new words and apply my growing knowledge	I can read age-appropriate texts with confidence and fluency of root words, prefixes and suffixes.	I can read aloud with intonation that shows understanding
• I can read and discuss a wide range of fiction, poetry, plays, non-fiction and	I can apply knowledge of root words, prefixes and suffixes to help understand reference books or textbooks.	and pronounce new words
I can familiarise myself with a wide range of books, including myths, legends	I can work out the meaning of words from the context and traditional stories, modern fiction, fiction from our literary heritage, and	I can explain and discuss understanding of what has been read, drawing books from other cultures and traditions.	inferences and justifying these with evidence
I can identify themes (love, friendship, hatred, envy, greed, guilt etc.) in and	I can predict what might happen from details stated and implied across a wide range of writing.	I can retrieve information from non-fiction
I can participate in discussions about books that I have read, taking turns and	I can distinguish opinions and assertions from facts, questioning what has been listening to what others say.	read
• I can build on others' ideas and challenge others opinions appropriately during	I can summarise main ideas, identifying key details and using quotations for discussions.	illustration
I can provide reasoned justifications for my views.	I can infer characters' feelings , thoughts and motives from their actions and
• I can check that the book makes sense to me, discussing my understanding and	justify inferences with evidence from the text exploring the meaning of words in context.	I can evaluate how authors use language, including figurative language,
• I can share opinions and recommend books to peers/adults, giving reasons for	considering the impact on the reader
my choices	I can make comparisons within and across books.
I can make comparisons within and across books.	I can identify, name and describe different genres and their features
• I can identify figurative language within texts and suggests why the author has	I can build on ideas and challenge other's opinions, offering coherent evidence chosen to use this language, and the impact it has on the reader.	to support and justify a differing viewpoint (PEE)
I can infer characters' feelings, thoughts and motives from their actions, and	I can identify themes across a wider range of reading justify inferences with evidence from the text.	I can identify how language and structure contribute to the meaning of the text
I can predict what might happen next from details stated and implied	I can show a clear awareness of the level of detail required for a question and
• I can summarise the main ideas, identifying key events and points.	respond appropriately
I can identify how language and structure contribute to meaning.	I can show a good awareness of time when completing a comprehension test
I can distinguish between facts and opinions.	and ensure all answers are addressed in the time allocated